Boat Wrap Care Instructions

Congratulations on your new wrap! Care for your wrap like you would any fine paint finish. Using high-quality products designed specifically for vinyl care, the following cleaning and maintenance tips will help keep your wrap looking its best and will allow you to get the most out of your investment.

The Do's

1. Keep it clean – whenever dirt starts collecting, it's best to wash it off as soon as possible.
2. Remove as much dirt and dust as possible by spraying it with water, then clean with a mild soapy water solution.
3. Test all cleaning products on a small area before using on larger areas.
4. Rinse thoroughly with water immediately after the use of cleaning products. Avoid water spotting by drying with a silicone squeegee and microfiber cloth.
5. Maintain the wrap's finish by using a waterless wash or spray wax. If you have your boat detailed, make sure a wax that is safe for vinyl is used.
6. Take precaution when transporting and hauling your wrapped boat in and out of the water. Add a protective layer between the wrap and lifts. Remember that straps and buckles can damage the wrap.

The Don'ts

1. Do not allow corrosive substances (like fuel) to remain in contact with the vinyl. The longer they sit, the more damage they will do.
2. High-pressure sprayers can lift the edge of your wrap and force water underneath. We recommend hand washing, however if you must pressure wash, keep the pressure under 2000 psi and avoid the waterline and vinyl edges.
3. Do not use stiff/hard brushes or buffers on your wrap as this can cause lifting, discoloration and scratches.
4. Do not use standard wax/polish on any matte, satin or textured finish. The chemicals in most standard wax products can eat away at vinyl.
5. Do not over-tighten your boat cover without protection near the buckles and other concerning areas. Before securing it, place foam or cloth between the cover and the wrap where wearing is a concern.

Failure to properly maintain your wrap can void the warranty on your investment.
